

2020 COPIC Humanitarian Award: Dr. David Nelson

We are proud to announce that Dr. David Nelson a family medicine physician from Holladay, was chosen as the recipient of the 2020 COPIC Humanitarian Award. Dr. Nelson is recognized for his commitment to making a difference in health care. The award was presented to Dr. Nelson at the Annual Utah Medical Association House of Delegates on September 11th.

The COPIC Humanitarian Award was created to recognize a physician in Utah for volunteer medical services and contributions to his or her community through principles focused on human dignity, social justice, and compassion. This year, UMA selected to honor Dr. David Nelson with this award in recognition of his work as a founder of Hope Clinic, Medical Director of Maliheh Free Clinic, and volunteer physician, working to better his community through exemplary volunteer services.

For decades Dr. Nelson has lent his leadership and clinical expertise, on a daily basis, to assure care is provided to those most in need. Thousands of patients within his community have been treated and benefited from his efforts and this organization.

Dr. Nelson is also a family medicine physician with Granger Medical Clinic, with an office in West Valley City, a medically underserved community in Utah.

The Humanitarian Award recognizes physicians who go above the call of duty in their health care community. Dr. Nelson has chosen the Hope Clinic as the beneficiary of the $10,000 grant associated with the award.
