

Overview

COPIC produces a podcast called Within Normal Limits: Navigating Medical Risks. Hosted by Dr. Eric Zacharias, an internal medicine specialist and COPIC's Director of Medical Education, the podcast provides a new way to connect with medical providers and share our insight. Each episode focuses on honest, open conversations between Dr. Zacharias and other medical experts/physicians about current challenges and how to proactively manage these. Topics range from best practices with informed consent to managing burnout in the COVID-19 era to addressing adverse outcomes.

About the Within Normal Limits Podcast

- ➔ Covers timely topics on patient safety, risk management, and other medical issues of interest
- ➔ Each episode is around 20–30 minutes
- ➔ New episodes are released on a regular basis so we encourage you to subscribe today

Within Normal Limits is available on:

Visit our website at www.callcopic.com/wnlpodcast for more information and a guide of the available episodes.